

EXECUTIVE ACCOMMODATIONS

With the shortage of human resources that Edmonton is currently experiencing, many companies need to seek employees from outside our bustling city. This can leave a new-found workforce seeking interim accommodations while they get settled. Many executives require short-term rental housing while fulfilling a contract position or commuting from another province.

We have the ideal solution for those housing woes! Liberty Quarters Suites provides executive furnished, newly renovated condominiums – and arranges leases between our clientele and their corporate staff.
